Serving Bethel and neighboring communities in the mountains of western Maine

Minna Morgan of West Paris rarely misses a Friday night Bingo game at the Legion Hall in Greenwood. A. Chapman

Locke's Mills Legion Hall at center of community life

BY AMY CHAPMAN

On a recent Friday afternoon, a crew of American Legion Auxiliary members were bustling back and forth in the kitchen of Jackson-Silver Post 68 in Greenwood. They had just served lunch to nearly 40 members of the Oxford County Retired Teachers Association, who were departing on a wave of good cheer after their annual holiday party. The kitchen crew had barely finished clearing the tables before it was time to get to work on the supper they provide each week before the regular Friday night Bingo games at the Legion post.

"Bingo starts at 6:00, but the doors open at 4:00," said Auxiliary member Anita Hakala, who takes charge of the meal preparation, "and people will be lined up before that."

Hardly a week goes by when the post doesn't host some kind of event featuring a hot meal, complete with homemade desserts. Besides the weekly Bingo night, there are frequent suppers and dances, as well as annual events like the Bethel Rotary Club's

Bethel to respond to sewer billing complaints

BY ALISON ALOISIO

Bethel selectmen Monday decided to send a letter to a group of unhappy sewer customers, asking to address their concerns about a recent updating of sewer charges.

The charges have been applied to dwelling units that had previously not been billed by the town, despite being required to be under town ordinance, according to town officials.

While newer construction has, according to the town, been billed by individual dwelling unit as the ordinance requires, some older properties, such as apartment buildings, were still being charged as a single unit. The town last year searched out those buildings/units and brought their billing structure up to date under the ordinance, the officials said.

Property owner Bob Laux organized a meeting, which also took place Monday evening, for sewer customers who have been affected. (see Letter to the Editor in Nov. 26 Citizen).

At the selectmen's meeting, Selectman Don Bennett said the town has reviewed its past notification process to customers impacted by the change. He described Laux' letter as "kind of accusatory," and said the town would like to address what the customers think might have been done wrong.

"We are bound at this table by the code book ... It's very specific what our duties are as far as funding a sewer district," Bennett said.

He said the ordinance had been approved by voters, and if customers are dissatisfied with it, "perhaps they would like to offer up some change to code."

Selectman Pat Carter agreed. "We need to address their issues and maybe get through to them what the code book says," she said, and if there is a problem, make a change. "We've tried to be fair," she added.

Vernon Street work

In other business Monday, Town Manager Christine Landes said the recently-completed Vernon Street road project has incurred an additional $18,000 in costs, due to four work change orders.

Code Enforcement Officer Jeff Warden said a variety of factors led to the change s, which included a layer of fine gravel that had to be added in order to comply with the town standards, and rip rap that was added to a ditch.

The costs will be covered under grant funds provided for the project, Landes said.

The board also made a series of appointments to town committees. They included:

Airport Authority: James Daugherty, Mark Beck.
Budget Committee: Ted Davis, John DeVivo, Greg Files, Neil Scanlon.

Recreation Committee: Mike Pelletier, John Elliot, Cindy Bailey, Janet Stephenson, Skip Bennett.

Bethel Water District: Reggie Brown.

Bingham Forest Authority: Ian Drew, Chris Hayward.

Legion plans to build blockhouse museum

BY AMY CHAPMAN

If everything goes as planned, by the time Greenwood celebrates its bicentennial in the summer of 2016, the town will be home to a replica Revolutionary War blockhouse that will serve the public as the American Legion Museum of the Revolution and Patriotic Center.

The members of Jackson-Silver Post 68 of the American Legion voted at their November meeting to build the log and stone structure on land adjacent to the Legion Hall on the Gore Road and use it to house a collection of period reproduction memorabilia.

The foundation of the building, to be built of stone, will include a large stone fireplace and chimney. The basement will provide a meeting space for "groups that share with the American Legion in their stated charters," according to an email from Post 68 Adjutant Harry Orcutt.

"These like-minded organizations will have a place to meet in fellowship, free of charge for the space," he said.

The top two floors of the structure will be built of white pine logs donated by Orcutt from his Greenwood property. He also plans to donate many of the materials for the exhibits, including a collection of nearly two dozen reproduction Revolution-era muskets and rifles.

Displays on the first floor "will comprise the American Colonial and Revolutionary War displays and exhibits, including those devoted to indigenous and African Americans," Orcutt

Wares Fair kicks off holiday shopping season

BY AMY CHAPMAN

While customers at big box stores were lining up in the cold to wait for Black Friday deals, the 18th annual Local Crafts and Wares Fair offered shoppers in Bethel a warmer alternative.

With a fresh snowfall outside, a crackling fire in the lobby's stone fireplace, and familiar faces among both buyers and sellers, the focus was on celebrating the season and supporting local craftspeople.

The popular event, sponsored each year by the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, draws about thirty crafters and hundreds of shoppers, who browsed tables of needlework, jewelry, ornaments, woodcrafts, and other handmade items.

Crafters said they thought the increased emphasis in recent years on shopping locally and supporting small business had been good for their sales.

Mary Harrington of Mountainess Handmade makes and sells organic handmade soap, lip balm, deodorant, and other products. She also markets them through an Etsy shop, at farm markets, and at several area retailers, including The Local Hub, The Good Food Store, and Bethel Bait and Tackle.

Two of her organic products, sea salt soap and honey-coconut oil deodorant, are featured in Down East magazine's December guide to Maine-made gifts. Brooke Schnake of Saco calls her craft business "Recreations." She displayed "upcycled art"—birdfeeders, party platters, and garden sculptures made of mismatched china and crystal.

To make the unique pieces, she repurposes vintage dishes, teacups, goblets, and even cookie jars that she finds at thrift stores and yard sales.

"I like knowing I've rescued them from the landfill and turned them into something else for people to enjoy," she said.

Husband and wife team Joe and Laura Marston of Wilton sell their wares at about two dozen craft fairs each year. Joe makes toys, puzzles, coat racks, and other items from pine and hardwood. Laura sells scarves and jackets made of a silk/rayon blend.

IMPACT OF NEWRY WITHDRAWAL

To the Editor:

I want to offer my thanks to Sunday River General Manager Dana Bullen for writing to the Town of Newry and this paper to point out that the town's consideration of withdrawal from SAD 44 has repercussions far beyond the physical town boundaries. In addition to all the Sunday River employees who would be affected by the tax shifts resulting from withdrawal, businesses and their employees other than those directly connected with the ski area will also be seriously impacted.

Currently, Newry's nonresident vacation home owners are the source of much of the 35 percent of the school budget billed to the town. It seems more than foolish to me to say "NO" to that source of income for the entire larger community when the stated purpose of the Newry Withdrawal Committee is to improve educational offerings for the children in town.

Why not, instead, work with the SAD 44 board and administration to improve conditions for ALL the students in the district? We are fortunate to have our vacation population to help us create a well-educated resident population for the future. Let's accept the help being offered and make it happen.

REMEMBERING MARY BROWN

To the Editor:

All of us here at The Bethel Inn Resort mourn the untimely passing of our coworker and friend, Mary Brown.

Mary's warm personality and welcoming spirit made her the perfect person to lead our staff and department heads in coordinating hundreds of weddings here at the Inn. As our wedding coordinator, Mary was responsible for every aspect, from the initial site visit, to booking the event and eventually seeing that every detail was anticipated and carried out to perfection.

She was so successful at her task because she genuinely cared about each and every one of the couples who considered the inn for their wedding site. Her success has been memorialized in the many letters from brides and grooms and their parents and wedding guests who took the time to write and personally thank Mary for her efforts.

We will long remember Mary for her professionalism and contribution to our business but also for her kindness, loyalty and friendship. She set a high standard for all of us and we will miss her dearly.

On behalf of the entire Inn family we offer our sincerest condolences to her loving husband, Reggie, and the entire Brown and Morrill families.

SUPPORT THE FOOD PANTRY

To the Editor:

As many of you know, the Bethel Area Food Pantry helps to feed people in our communities. Luckily, most of us are fortunate enough that we do not need to use its services. But for those who are less fortunate, hungry children and adults, the Food Pantry provides nourishing food to keep hunger away.

For over 20 years, it is you, the residents of and visitors to our towns, who support the Food Pantry with your donations because you believe that no one deserves to go hungry. Please continue to share your good fortune with our less-fortunate neighbors. You can mail your donation to: Bethel Area Food Pantry, PO Box 232, Bethel, Maine 04217 or you can stop in at the Northeast Bank and make a deposit directly to the account. For every one dollar you donate, we are able to provide four dollars-worth of food.

We are a 501(c)3 non-profit organization and your donation is tax-deductible.

Please help us keep others from going hungry this winter. Thank you.

From the Town Manager's Office

(Note: This is the first of a new bi-weekly column by new Bethel Town Manager Christine Landes that will keep residents updated on town business and issues.)

By Christine M. Landes, Town Manager, Town of Bethel

What an amazing community the Town of Bethel is! I am very excited about starting my position as your new Town Manager. The first couple of weeks have been spent learning about projects in town and educating myself on the priorities and goals of the Boards and Committees. I have visited various departments and met most of the people who serve the residents and taxpayers of the town. You should be proud of your town employees as they take great pride in their job and thoroughly enjoy working for you!

The Board of Selectmen had a workshop to set goals they would like to see accomplished by my office. A couple of the projects include rewriting the personnel policy and working with the Sign Committee to review the sign code. I located the previous Town Manager's to-do list and have included that with my goals. As time allows I will be starting on these projects.

Please feel free to stop by the office and introduce yourself. I would love to hear your concerns or compliments about issues in town. I do plan on making some time in the near future to visit the town's businesses and meet the owners. I am looking forward to learning more about this quaint western Maine town and its townspeople. In the meantime, if there is anything I or the employees of the town can do for you please do not hesitate to contact us. We are here for you.

How the Maine Music Festival Began

BY DONALD G. BENNETT

For Bethel there was never anything quite like it. Not only would Bethel people have a chance to perform in a statewide musical concert- and with William Rogers Chapman as the overall director. Homer Chase of Auburn would be the festival's general manager.

Here's how it all began: News from Lewiston, Oct. 16, 1896 reported that a movement to form a musical society in Lewiston, Auburn and several of the towns along the Grand Trunk railway was underway. Goal of the society was to hold an annual musical festival similar to that of the Worcester Music Festival (which started in 1858) is underway. Professor William Rogers Chapman of New York and Bethel would be the "prime mover in the matter." Prof. Chapman is the director of the Rubenstein Club in New York and has a summer home in Bethel.

Hard to imagine today, but Chapman organized and conducted choruses of a thousand voices, full orchestra and on theater stages which held full chorus. His winter home and headquarters for choral groups was the Waldorf Astoria in New York.

After Nordica had suggested a Maine festival to Chapman, he talked over the idea with Dr. and Mrs. Gehring, who were all for it.

The group planned to organize a chorus of 400 voices in Lewiston, Auburn, Norway, Bethel, and Berlin and Gorham, N.H. This festival would be presented for one week after the Worcester festival - one night in each of the towns and two nights in Lewiston. Professor Chapman, it was hoped, would be able to secure such well known soloists as Nordica, Emma Eames and Annie Cary Raymond with whom Chapman was well acquainted.

January 1897 -Maine Musical Festival: The musical festival to be held in Maine in October, 1897, will, it is hoped, be the first of a series of such events. Lewiston has been selected as the focus (which was later changed), and a chorus of 1,000 Maine voices is to be heard in important musical works, under the leadership of William Rogers Chapman, who is from Maine. Nordica, who is a Maine girl, is to be the leading soloist. There will be an orchestra of 100 pieces. (Chapman also took on the job of creating a Portland Symphony Orchestra for the festival.) The program will cover three evenings and two matinees.

It turned out Lewiston could not provide a sufficiently large auditorium for such a festival - leaving Bangor and Portland as the two Maine venues.

April 1897. The Bethel Chorus formed in preparation for the fall festival gave a concert which brought praise from Prof. and Mrs. Chapman for being the first in the field to give a concert. Chorus director Bennett Snyder was presented with a beautiful ivory, ebony and silver baton for his excellent work as director, organizer, coach and singer. Mr. Snyder was a staff member of the Bethel News.

After learning from Chapman of his plans for a music festival Bangor parties were very enthusiastic about its possibilities. In July 1893 stockholders formed an association to build an auditorium that could handle a crowd of up to 1,800. By the end of September the new auditorium was completed.

In August the choruses of Norway and Bethel put on a concert at the Norway Congregational Church under the direction of William Rogers Chapman. Homer Chase, the festival's overall general manager, attended.

The Bethel Chorus of thirty who made the trip to Norway were: Bennett Snyder, chorus director, and singers Edgar Barker, Clyde Bartlett, F.F. Bean and wife, J.C. Billings and wife, Minnie Capen, Barbara Carter, Fannie Carter, George Farnsworth, Mrs. Ava Finney, Mrs. C.O. Foster, Nellie Frost, R.W. Glidden, Archie Grover, Laura Hall, Mrs. Ira Jordan, Durward Mason, Alice Purington, Ethel Richardson, Joan Stearns, Mrs. Sadie Tuell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Valentine (Mary Valentine's grandparents), Lillian Vance, W.S. Wight and wife, Bertha Wiley, and Mrs. Goodwin R. Wiley.

The hoped for Festival appearance of Maine's world renowned opera star Nordica seemed excellent depending on the singer's health.

In October the Bethel chorus held its final rehearsal prior to the big festival in Portland. Thirty-six members would enjoy the honor of performing at the first Maine Music Festival. The day's program would include solos by Madame Nordica, Lillian Blauvelt, Evan Williams and other well known singers. Tickets were sold at Wiley's Drug Store for $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00

Portland's Armory (now the Portland Regency Hotel) became the festival's home there. Its architect oversaw a new stage and galleries to accommodate the festival.

In 1897 the Maine Music Festival program schedule was Bangor: October 14, 15, and 16; Portland: October 18, 19 and 20.

Bethel Day at the Maine Music Festival - Tuesday, October 19. Chorus news for the week following the Maine Musical Festival show in Portland ran: "Our local chorus is elated over the good time, entertainment and the general success of the musical festival at Portland. Measures have been taken already to continue the work for the ensuing year."

As the first festival year ended it was announced that Mrs. Gehring will take over as director for the "Chorus" while Mr. Snyder (who was a Bethel News staff member) is away visiting his home in Moncton, New Brunswick.

The Festival went on to entertain the public for 30 years. More about Chapman: <http://www.thebetheljournals.info/Biography/WilliamRogersChapman.htm> holiday meal.

The Legion Hall also serves as a community center, available for wedding receptions, family reunions, and other private events.

It hosts Red Cross Blood Drives and serves as the headquarters for the annual Skunk Run, a motorcycle ride to raise money for scholarships to Central Maine Community College in memory of Sandon Morgan of West Paris.

For more than 20 years, the Legion Hall has provided an inexpensive place for out-of-state church youth groups and Boy Scouts to stay, during ski weekends. The young people and their chaperones bring sleeping bags and air mattresses and "camp out," using the kitchen facilities to prepare their meals.

Last week the hall hosted the 24th annual Turkey Tuesday, a community tradition put on each year by the Good Food Store to raise donations for the Bethel Food Pantry.

Once the expenses of maintaining the building have been met, funds raised through the weekly Bingo games, rental of the hall, suppers, and other events go toward scholarships, sponsorships, and charitable projects.

The Jackson-Silver Post and the Auxiliary both provide scholarships to local students for higher education, and sponsor delegates to Boys' State and Girls' State.

They join with the other American Legion Posts in Oxford County to hold an annual district-wide youth oratorical contest each January, at Foster-Carroll Post 72 in South Paris. Participants speak extemporaneously on a topic related to the Constitution, with the winner moving on to a statewide competition at Thomas College in Waterville.

The post also sponsors a Legion baseball team each summer, providing them with equipment and uniforms and paying umpiring fees for all home games. Costs related to sponsoring the team amounted to over $4,000 in 2014, according to Post Commander Wayne Hakala.

In addition to the scholarships and sponsorships, "we work behind the scenes to help the needy," said Hakala, a 20-year Air Force veteran who is also the current District Commander for Oxford County.

As a result of a vote taken at their most recent post meeting, members are about to embark on a major new project—building a replica Revolutionary War blockhouse. (See related story.)

And last year, when the town of Greenwood was searching for a site for its new Town Office, the post donated a parcel of land adjacent to the Legion Hall, giving the new municipal building a convenient location with access to ample parking.

History

The Jackson-Silver Post began in Woodstock, and was named for two veterans of that town. The post's first location in Greenwood was the building on Route 26 that most recently housed Mt. Mica Rarities. Part of it was built in Albany and hauled to its present location in the 1930s by teams of oxen.

At one point in the move, Hakala said, "it got hung up between two rocks and had to be cut in half" in order to continue the move. The building was then reassembled on its final site.

The current Legion building was begun in 1976 and completed over the next two or three years. The first event Hakala remembers attending there was an oyster stew supper, just before he shipped out to Germany in the late 1970s.

According to the American Legion website, www.legion.org, the organization was chartered and incorporated in 1919 by Congress to focus on service to veterans, service members, and communities. There are currently more than 2.4 million American Legion members in 14,000 posts.

Jackson-Silver Post welcomes new members. Membership is open to veterans of all branches of the military who have served honorably during war eras, with those dates determined by Congress.

For information about the American Legion, post activities, or use of the hall, call the Jackson-Silver Post at 875-2375.

wrote, "The second and final floor will be a 30' by 30' space dedicated to the British, Hessians, and their Indian allies as adversaries, and the French and Spanish as our allies."

Plans call for the museum to be built using volunteer labor, and to be completed in time for the 2016 Bicentennial Celebration.

Orcutt said he expects the museum to be open at least three days a week from spring through mid-autumn, and to be available throughout the year to host reenactments and observances of such events as the Boston Tea Party on Dec. 16th and the Boston Massacre on March 5.

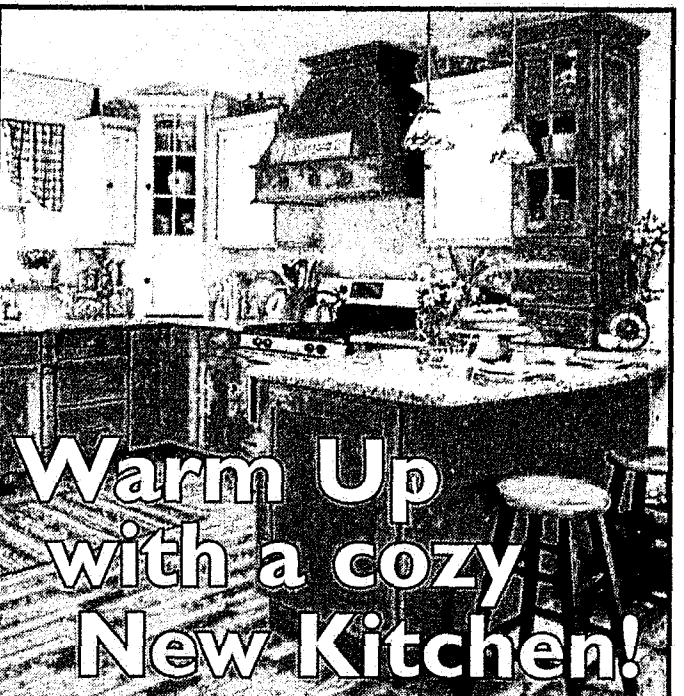

In explaining his reasons for proposing the project, Orcutt said that Greenwood, like many small towns in the northeast, sent many of its residents to fight in the American Revolution.

"On Patch Mountain Road, as but one example within just Oxford County, five of the original settlers were soldiers of the Revolution," he wrote.

He surmised that there may be descendants of those soldiers still living in the area who are unaware of the contribution their ancestors made to the cause of American independence.

"With the building of the American Legion Museum of the Revolution and Patriotic Center, we will have a rallying point to articulate that history. And by so doing, we will demonstrate what a community of 900 souls can accomplish when they are called upon to create a project that is worth doing."

The Way I See It

BY SHARON BOUCHARD

From TWISI archives:

Another Thanksgiving is now history and a fine one it was too. The food was great, if I do say so myself. But, to me, what's even better than the food was the great conversation around the dinner table that lingered long after the last piece of pumpkin pie. That's my favorite part about the holiday.

Now we gear up for the biggest holiday of the year. Christmas is coming and I don't know if the goose is getting fat, but with all the holiday goodies that will be in abundance over the next few weeks I'm sure that I'll put on a pound or two.

I had to work on Black Friday so I was not one of the many who lined up in the wee hours of the cold morning at Wal Mart or other big box stores.

Even if I didn't have to work I still wouldn't have been a shivering body in the crowd on Friday morning. If getting up before the crack of dawn and standing out in the cold for the sake of some good deals is your thing, then I say more power to you.

I, on the other hand like to sleep and I really, really hate being cold. I'm sure I'm missing out on some great bargains, but items on my shopping list would have to be darn near free before I would drag myself out of a warm bed to go stand outside a store in the darkness.

Cyber Monday is more my speed. That's a day of on-line specials available right at my fingertips in the warm comfort of my own home. I didn't even know that Cyber Monday existed, but I happened to go to a website in search of a particular electronic gizmo and found a Cyber Monday 20 percent discount and free shipping. And, I didn't get a single goose bump.

As easy and convenient as online shopping is I do suffer some guilt for not shopping at the local stores. Even though the electronic gizmo I wanted is not available locally, I am guilty of having bought other items over the Internet that could have just as easily have been bought through a local retailer. By local retailer I don't mean the big box stores; I don't think they care if you buy from their website or in person. I mean the small retail stores that depend on the Christmas season sales to get them through the lean winter months ahead.

Now, I not only feel guilty, I feel cheap and dirty like I worked a deal with a total stranger to save a buck rather than help a friend. What a way to start the holiday season!

I'll end my remorse by doing as much shopping as I can at local stores so I can feel a little better about myself. I'll actually feel much better about myself once I get all my shopping done no matter where I do it. The race is on and within a couple of weeks everyone's stress level will be stretched to the max.

Stop! Stop! Take a deep breath before you get stressed. Maybe, before the Christmas season is in full swing we should all spend a little time reflecting on the reason for the season. Maybe we should evaluate the spirit of giving rather than the gift.

Money is in short supply for most of us so maybe it would be better spent on supplies to make some gifts. There are people, I'm not one of them, who can knit, sew, crochet or have carpentry skills. All of the talents needed to make creative gifts.

Even I, who have little talent at all, can make candy and cookies that are pretty darn good and make great gifts too.

Just think about all the time and money saved by making many of the gifts we plan to give. That would free up time to enjoy the season, go to tree lightings, take a sleigh ride and listen to the carolers sing the songs of Christmas.

The way I see it that would be worth standing out in the cold to enjoy.

*Stop! Stop!
Take a deep breath

Elizabeth McLellan, a 1969 Gould Academy graduate, was recently chosen by WCSH television as one of its 2014 "6 Who Care." Elizabeth founded Partners for World Health in 2007. It is an organization that recovers and recycles useable medical supplies that hospitals and nursing homes are throwing away and sends these supplies to facilities abroad that desperately need them. Supplies include basic things that we take for granted, such as wound-care materials, IV solutions, sterile syringes and needles, surgical equipment, wheelchairs, gloves and masks. To date Elizabeth and volunteers have recycled more than 500,000 pounds of medical supplies. This year 12 full shipping containers were sent to developing communities in Asia and Africa. Elizabeth has received numerous awards for her humanitarian work. The Red Cross honored her as a Health Care Hero Recipient. Partners for World Health continually needs volunteers and funds. If you want to help, contact them at www.partnersforworldhealth.org.

The Thanksgiving Eve snow storm left fourteen inches of snow in Bethel, along with icy roads and sidewalks. The town has put out barrels of sand to help us navigate icy spots on town roads and sidewalks. There are four barrels on Main Street. They are in front of Viewer's Choice Video, United Methodist Church, Mountain Jewelers, and beside the Town Office. There is also a barrel of sand beside the Bethel Library on Broad Street. Residents can get sand at the "sand shed" located near the Bethel Airport.

Avery Angevine hosted a traditional Thanksgiving dinner for his family at the Sudbury Inn on Sunday, Nov. 30. Twenty-five people attended.

Over the holiday, Jim Young visited and stayed with Josh Young in New York City. Then they both went to visit Shonna Young in Roanoke, Va. They all had Thanksgiving with Ollie, Carla, Moriah and Keana Starbird in Forest, Va. Along with Stacie Ehrig.

Here it is already December and a mere few weeks left in the year 2014. I do hope everyone had a Happy Thanksgiving. I heard from a couple of folks and hope to have more about all the family gatherings near and far.

Jennifer and Lee Norris, Ryan and Katherineina Stowell, Jarrod and Paige Crockett with children Teddy and Joslyn had Thanksgiving at their mother Aline Dupont's house. Ryan is getting married to a lovely young lady, Katherineina, on Wednesday December third. Ryan has a marketing degree from Belmont University, working towards his masters and she is a Harvard graduate student with a major in economics. The couple will reside in Woburn Massachusetts. Congratulations and Best Wishes to Ryan and Katherineina from the neighborhood.

Arlene Harrington had left on Wednesday to celebrate Thanksgiving with her daughter in Durham. They ended up having their dinner on Sunday as sadly her daughter was among those having lost power during the storm. Gloria Crockett spent Thanksgiving at Old Orchard Beach.

I would love to hear more, so please call me at 507-1008 or e-mail heinrichcracker@gmail.com.

Next week I will have the answer for the Trivia for you. Stop in and see me at the InnSide Shop. We still have several of the cute totes from Shop Small Saturday to give away.

Have a great week and stay warm.

A big thank you to Vickie and Marshall Meisner for decorating and lighting our bandstand on the common. It looks terrific and what a welcome to those visiting our town. It would make a great Christmas card! December is the time the Budget Committee continues its deliberations for the town budget of 2015 which will be presented for approval at the annual Town Meeting in March. The committee meets on Mondays at 6 p.m. downstairs at the library. The meeting is open to the public.

There is a Special Town Meeting scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. in the Town Hall. Article 1 will choose a moderator. Article 2 is to see if the Town will vote to approve the creation of a Designated School Operational Account. This will be a carry-over account. Article 3 is to see if the Town will vote to approve creation of a Designated Gift/Donation Account for use by the New Andover School Board. This will be a carry-over account. These articles will help get our new school board on a solid footing to take care of the finances associated with the establishment of our own school district.

Mills Market Deer Tagging Station registered 18 deer this past week. The season total including Youth Day was 62.

Residents are reminded that certain items to be disposed of at the Transfer Station require a punch card. These items include refrigerators, tires, computers and monitors. Each resident received one of these punch cards with their tax bill. We all know how easy it is to misplace such an item. Not to worry, you can get one at the Town Office. Our Transfer Station attendants need your cooperation to make sure these items are properly disposed of and don't end up in the woods or on the side of the road.

Christmas in Snow Valley happens this Saturday, Dec. 6 beginning at 8 a.m. at the CEB of the First Congregational Church with coffee and homemade donuts, a great bake sale thanks to the organizing efforts of Betsey White and Philena Chaisson, crafts and a luncheon. The Andover Historical Society will also have a table with their various items relating to Andover and its history. Meanwhile over at the Fire Station other crafters will be present, a lunch will be served and Santa will arrive to delight children at 1 p.m. So come on up, down or over to Andover and get in the Christmas spirit.

A reminder to all Uptonites, the annual town

Christmas party will be held on Sunday, Dec. 7 starting with a brief service and carol singing at the Upton Union Church, a presentation by the children, followed by games, food and fun at the Ladies Aid Building. I'm so pleased to have been asked to lead the service and now am sending up earnest prayers for good weather so I can make the trip up the hill.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet today, Dec. 4, at 11:30 at the Woodstock Fire Station for their meeting. If you want to exchange gifts, bring one. An item for the food pantry or money to give them and something for children for Christmas if you wish to. Dinner by the firemen and ladies.

Now that everyone has hopefully recovered from Thanksgiving and all that good food, it is time to get ready for Christmas. We already have enough snow to make it a white Christmas. There was about nine inches that had fallen on Thursday morning. The power was out from about 9 p.m. on Wednesday night until 10 a.m. on Thursday morning.

My brother, Steve McLain, attended the Ro-

LEARNING ABOUT SAFETY—The children and staff of The West Bethel Early Learning Center were excited to have a visit from local community helpers Nov. 20. The children had an opportunity to discuss the ways they practice safety at home and at school. It was reinforced that the police, ambulance attendants and firefighters are in place to protect us. The children enjoyed exploring each safety vehicle inside and out. (The West Bethel Early Learning Center is currently taking applications for children 0-5 years and pregnant moms. Steve and Lise McLain had a great time at Brad and Carole's for Thanksgiving Dinner this past Thursday.

Hugh and I went to Tim and Michele's for Thanksgiving Dinner this past weekend. The grandchildren, William, Annie, Ajay and Sidney, were there. Also attending were Michele's parents, Leo and Ann Croteau.

Mary Tyler was the guest of her niece and husband, Brenda and Jeff Bergeron for Thanksgiving Dinner. Also present were Christi Cole, Moriah Bergeron, Brendan Bergeron, Morgan Bergeron, Merle Cole and Jeff's mother, Elaine Bergeron. Out of town guests from Embden were Steve and Patricia Kollar.

Our granddaughter, Sidney Chapman spent last Thursday night at our house. She wanted to be ready to go to Bethel on Friday to the Wares Fare. She likes to get some of her Christmas shopping done there. After shopping, we had to go to lunch at Pat's Pizza and stop at Maine Line Products for some fudge. Then we had to go to Bridgton to meet Carole to pick up a couple of other grandchildren, William and Annie, so they could spend the weekend with Tim and Michele for Thanksgiving.

Last weekend there was a small geyser erupting in the middle of the Howe Hill Road. One of the pipes from Mt. Abram runs under this road just past the intersection with Oak Road. Mid-morning it ruptured and caused one side of the road to collapse. Water shot 30 feet into the air. How do I know that? I was there. Mt. Abram staff and Town employees responded within minutes, and, by the next morning, the pipe was fixed and the road had been repaired. Momentary excitement.

Today, Thursday, Dec. 4, is the completion celebration of the solar project at Mt. Abram. Everyone is welcome to come to the celebration at 11 a.m. in the base lodge parking lot overlooking the project, followed by lunch and a view of the solar project's monitor display.

The next stage of the TIF proposal for the Town of Greenwood will be a meeting Dec. 18 to review the proposal and these will be summarized and condensed into a plan for our attorney to review. After that, public hearings will be held to review the TIF plan. It will then be voted on at next year's town meeting.

This Saturday is the annual Christmas Fair & Tea at the West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel, from 1 to 4 p.m. Crafts, rummage sale, cookie walk, greens, tea with sandwiches and desserts served upstairs. Always a good time and a chance to see many people you might not encounter often.

Early notice for next week. Our Inaugural Poet Richard Blanco will be reading from his latest book, "The Prince of los Cocuyos," Thursday, Dec. 11, 7:30 p.m., at the Bingham Auditorium at Gould Academy. He's a wonderful writer and a wonderful reader. A great treat for the holiday season.

I realized that there are a lot of holidays between now and early January but had no idea how many. In light of that, I think I'll list the holidays for each week as we progress through this time of very little daylight. For this week we have: Saint Nicholas Day, Dec. 6; Krampusnacht (the feast of St. Nick.), Dec. 6; Bodhi Day (Buddhist Day of Enlightenment), Dec. 8; and Chalica is sometime the first week of December. Celebrate something.

This week we have about nine hours of daylight each day. I guess that in itself is a good reason to celebrate and distract ourselves from the darkness.

About 10 days ago I purchased a 200 minutes card for my Tracfone, which with my double minutes card should have given me 400 minutes plus 90 days added to my number of service days. After arriving at home, I scraped the silver colored stripe to reveal the activation code beneath. I punched in the activation code and received a message to not turn the phone off until my new minutes appeared on the screen. After two days I went to Tracfone online and again found the "new minutes pending" message. Stumped, I waited until the following Monday, when Katrina came up to visit with great-granddaughter Harper; then I asked her to see if she could get my new minutes to register. After a period of time on the phone, Kate talked to somebody and ended up with a new message, "minutes pending." After a few minutes, I checked my phone and found that I had over 300 new minutes and about 1000 days added to my service time! A few days later, I received a text message saying to the effect, "Add 200 minutes and 90 days to your contract." "OK" appeared on the bottom of the message. I punched OK, and was surprised to see that I now have over 600 minutes and over 1500 service days displayed on my phone screen, and I have yet to be billed for the extra minutes or service days! I have no idea what Kate said to the "phone man" or how the additional 200 minutes and added service days were awarded.

One evening last week as I was walking along a woods road about 200 yards from the house, Shiloh came proudly parading out of the bushes along the trail with what I first thought was a stick as he often does. On closer inspection, I discovered it was about 18 inches of a deer leg, from the hoof to just above the leg joint, and about the top 10" of the bone had been skinned. I don't know anybody nearby who has shot a deer recently. Shiloh proudly kept the leg bone nearby and kept trying to bring it into the house, until the snow came. We didn't really want that wet, stinky thing in the house, and I think he must have buried or lost the leg because I haven't seen it since the snowstorm! I hope to never see it again.

By Doug Webster

The Town Office had a workshop for all the town employees. The town's lawyer led the workshop and the topic was Maine's Freedom of Access Act (FOAA). The state actually requires all elected officials to complete a training course within 120 days of taking the oath of office. The purpose of the act is to guarantee access by the public to two categories of public business: public proceedings (meetings) and public records of governmental entities, such as the state, counties, municipalities, school districts and quasi-municipal entities such as water, sewer and sanitary districts. Exceptions to the FOAA, such as confidential records that are not available to the public and executive session meetings that are not open to the public, are narrowly construed.

FOAA covers all the different aspects of public proceedings, like what constitutes a "public proceeding," what notice is required, as well as the right to record or film public proceedings. It explains how there should be no "meeting" via e-mail, telephone, or otherwise. It goes over the requirements and procedural steps for executive sessions.

The act also defines what a public record consists of: any written, printed, or graphic matter or any mechanical or electronic data compilation from which data can be obtained that is in the custody of any public official or has been received or prepared for use in connection with any public or governmental business. It also talks about the right to inspect or copy public records.

It goes into a lot of details about the rights of the public to gain access to documents, and the rights of public entities and what they can or cannot do when releasing information. These are some of the highlights of the FOAA. For more information, I believe the state statute is "FOAA," 1 M.R.S.A. 401-412.

I see Sunday River Resort's President/General Manager, Dana Bullen, has given the official response of the ski area to Newury's withdrawal process from SAD 44. Mr. Bullen stated he wrote a letter to the Selectmen last week. The Withdrawal Committee will be the body responsible for drafting the contract to be negotiated with the School Board. Mr. Bullen and his team members should come to a committee meeting so they can understand some of the issues that the committee is dealing with. I think it is a noble idea that Mr. Bullen wants to help solve some of the school system's challenges and to be engaged and committed to having a stronger community. All the input we can get on the issue of a more fair and equitable solution to the current funding formula will help the process.

I hope everybody made it to their Thanksgiving destination. The snow storm sure did come at a bad time, but I trust everyone had a good Thanksgiving. I am sure the ski areas and local hunters appreciated the snow. Sunday River seemed to have a good weekend, and the hunters had some good snow for tracking the elusive white tailed deer for the last week of open firearm season. Here in our district, there will be two additional weeks to hunt with a muzzle-loader only.

As always, be sure to share your news with me, especially if you do not like mine, dwebster@megalink.net.

Waterford

By Rockie Graham

It is early a.m. and the promise is for cold and wet weather. I for one did not like that foot of snow, but it was good forewarning for what is to come. Our plow truck never was repaired and we are still down to snow blowers. Dave and Sadie were in charge of that. I am still banned from heavy duty work. Hoping to change that soon. To that end, I went to the transfer station on Sunday and visited. I felt like I was holding court at one point because people came into the shop to visit me. That was fun. I walked too much, though, and suffered the next day. That will get better.

Condolences go out to the families of the Holman's - friend Lee Holman who lost her father Alexander Holman two weeks ago week; and the family of Mary Brown, wife of Reggie Brown who died last week. My best to all.

I do have to complain about the thief who stole David's new winter jacket last Sunday while he was working hard at the transfer station. You know who you are and we'd appreciate if you would return it. It is a blue Carhart with a hood that I bought at the end of last winter. We can sure use that back.

Hope all had a great Thanksgiving. We did and have lots of turkey left. Dave brought home a fresh one from his friend Jim in Massachusetts whom he went to help last week. It was really tender and moist. I think that reflects Dave's good cooking.

Next week, Dec. 11, Richard Blanco will have a reading and book signing of his new book at 7:30 p.m. at Bingham Hall at Gould Academy in Bethel. The book is a memoir, "The Prince of Los Cocuyos."

Saturday, Dec. 6, Responsible Pet Care will hold an open house at their new location at 9 Swallow Road from noon to 4 p.m. Might be a fun time to see the new location.

There is much more to write about, but time escapes me. Have a good week, stay safe and warm.

OCS&WCD awards

Merle Ring

The Oxford County Soil & Water Conservation District would like to announce the Award Winners for 2014. All of the winners will be recognized at the Annual meeting on Dec. 6.

Award for Leadership in the field of Agriculture, Forestry, Soil or Water Conservation: Merle Ring. Merle Ring, in addition to serving as board chairman for the Oxford County Soil & Water Conservation District, is a District Forester for the Maine Forest Service, covering Oxford County. His office is in West Paris. Merle also does private consulting forestry on his own time. He is past president of the Western Maine chapter of SWOAM and is currently serving as vice-president. He serves as chair of the Education Committee for the Maine Association of Conservation Districts. Merle has been a state District Forester for 33 years, joining the Maine Forest Service shortly after graduating from the University of Maine at Orono in 1976. Merle is a native Mainer, born and growing up in Bryant Pond.

Partnership Award: Cumberland County Soil & Water Conservation District. Watersheds don't always follow county divisions so when it comes to watershed projects there is often some overlap in jurisdiction. Over the past four years there have been at least four joint county projects in which Cumberland County SWCD took the lead, inviting Oxford SWCD to take a partnership role, to perform a watershed survey or carry out an NPS implementation grant project. Michele Windsor has had the pleasure of working with several of the Cumberland County staff, on both types of projects in the Moose Pond and Crooked River watersheds. Cumberland County staff members are extremely talented, knowledgeable and hardworking. They take on large and challenging projects and produce some of the best outcomes in conservation in the State of Maine. We are currently working with Cumberland County SWCD on the Crooked River 319 Implementation Project, led by Heather True, CCSWCD Project Manager. In 2010 Michele assisted Heather with Watershed Survey Project on Moose Pond, and in 2012, the Moose Pond Watershed Implementation Project. We have a great deal of respect and admiration for what Cumberland County SWCD is able to accomplish and enjoy an excellent working relationship with them. They are a great organization to partner with.

Volunteer(s) of the Year: Oxford Hills Christian Academy

Those amazing teens at Oxford Hills Christian Academy have done it again! When asked to help out during Agriculture & Conservation Day this year, Miss Hladik asked if her students could have the Learning Station information ahead of time, so that they could study, research and present their topic on AgCon Day. They did a fantastic job! Subjects covered included: The Two Bugs That Are Changing Our World, Balsam Sachets, Agriculture & Conservation 20 Questions, Backyard Poultry, How Long Does It Take to Decompose?, Nature Bingo, Outdoor Games, How to Make a Basic First Aid Kit and What Types of Things Does Maine Produce? In addition, they provided our photographer and a personal assistant for the day. We're very proud of these teens!

In addition to these awards OCSWCD will take a few moments to recognize some even younger folks. The winner of the Children's Photo Contest was Kelsey Wood of Norway with her creative photograph titled "Inside a Tree". Honorable Mention went to Aaron Nason, also of Norway, for his photo of "Maine Lady Slippers". Both of these winners are 10 years old! The last youngster to be awarded recognition is 12 year old Samantha Paradis of Dixfield. Samantha is a member of the Norway/Paris Fish & Game and participated in Agriculture & Conservation Day at Oxford County Fair by demonstrating archery to over 900 attendees! She did a great job and was a favorite amongst the students.

The OCSWCD Annual Meeting is open to the public and will be held on Dec. 6 at 5:30 p.m. at the First Congregational Church of South Paris. Lorraine Taft, Forest Pest Outreach Project Coordinator, will be the guest speaker and she will be updating us on the recent Emerald Ash Borer quarantine of Rockingham County, which lies on the western border of Maine. She will also talk about the possibility of a Municipal Emerald Ash Borer Management Plan. This program will be of interest to all who care about the future of Maine's trees. Reservations for dinner are $10 per person and there is a choice of chicken pie or vegetarian quiche. If you would like to attend the Annual Meeting and support any of these winners, please call Jean Federico at 743-5789, ext. 111.

TMS students to show 'sparks' at ArtReach

Telstar Middle School students will present the 10th annual ArtReach event on Thursday, Dec. 11, 2014 from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Telstar Auditorium and Cafeteria. This event will feature a student art exhibit and sale, as well as a program of special student performances. All of the visual and performing artworks presented at this year's ArtReach event are designed to showcase students' "Sparks."

"Sparks" is a metaphor used to describe the passions and interests of youth that light up their lives and express the core of who they are and what they bring to the world. At the start of the school year, students in the TMS 7th/8th grade Advanced Art class chose to support the new Telstar Freshmen Academy (TFA) program with this year's ArtReach service-learning project. The TFA is a unique and innovative collaboration between MSAD 44 and the UMaine 4H Bryant Pond Learning Center designed to increase student engagement and academic success through experiential integrated learning. Students have been learning about the new TFA program and identifying ways they can support it. Students have shared some of their observations, reflections and research on a website they designed for the project: www.ShowYourSparks.wix.com/Telstar. One goal that has emerged for the project is to increase "sparks-focused" learning opportunities at the TFA in collaboration with local nonprofits. From this goal, came the title of the project: "Show Your Sparks."

Students have been working to produce a short film to educate the public about the TFA program and they have been creating artworks designed to showcase their own Sparks. These efforts and more will be showcased at the ArtReach event. The student art exhibit and sale will open at 5 p.m., and the program of special student performances will begin at 6 p.m. Admission is free and refreshments will be provided. For more information about this event, contact Melissa Prescott, TMS Visual Art Teacher at prescotm@sad44.org.

December Universalist Church services

We tend to gather closer in December and savor this special time of year. What better way than to attend worship services at the First Universalist Church of West Paris where you may be inspired, comforted or moved to laughter. Services are offered on a variety of topics by a variety of guest speakers and our worship service committee. (A special time is our Christmas Eve Candlelight service at 5:30 p.m. led by The Reverend Fayre Stephenson.) Sunday worship services begin at 9 a.m., followed with refreshments.

Dec. 7: "This the Season" led by guest speaker, Pat Harris. December, the cusp of the year: days shorten, nights lengthen and winter is on our doorstep. Whether you love or hate them, the holidays are near. This reflection will ask us to journey inward to consider the notion of gifts, giving, and receiving. Is it possible to enjoy this season despite the craziness it sometimes brings? The sermon will explore some possibilities. Pat Harris is a third generation Unitarian-Universalist who grew up in Castine. A lifelong active church member, Pat has belonged to only three churches: Castine, Auburn and now Brunswick, where she lives after retiring from 37 years of teaching in the Lewiston School System. Her passion for the past 26 years has been lay ministry, and she has chaired worship committees in Auburn and Brunswick. She is a writer, quilter, photographer and art journalist. She resides in Brunswick with her partner, Deb Silverman (to whom she was officially married in March of 2013), their German Shepherd Emma Leah, and their two old kitties, Buster and Annie.

Dec. 14: "Hope: The Heart of Christmas" led by The Reverend Fayre Stephenson. As we find ourselves in the midst of holiday madness, we may wonder what this season has to teach us about hope and love. At this service we'll take the time to pause, catch our breath, and through our Unitarian Universalist lens, we'll look at the Christmas message of hope for peace on this earth. Reverend Stephenson leads worship services at the First Universalist Church at least twice a month.

Dec. 21: "Candles in the Darkness" led by The Reverend Fayre Stephenson. On this Sunday before Christmas we will explore the qualities of light and darkness as they are revealed in the lessons of Hanukkah, Advent and the Winter Solstice.

Dec. 24, 5:30 p.m.: Christmas Eve Candlelight Service led by The Reverend Fayre Stephenson. This service will be a traditional service of readings and carols for the whole family. There will be special music and participants from the congregation. Invite your friends and families! (We ask that people attending the Christmas Eve service to bring a non-perishable food item to donate to the local food pantry.)

Dec. 28: "R.O.C.K.S.: James Luther Adams' Five Smooth Stones: A creed for Unitarian Universalists?" led by The Reverend Sue Gabrielson who will discuss the Five Smooth Stones and whether they might serve as a grounding "theology" for Unitarian Universalists in the 21st Century. Rev. Sue has been the Minister for the Sanford Unitarian Universalist Church since 2003.

The Mahoosuc Community Band will have its annual Christmas Concert Sunday, Dec. 7, 2014, at 4 p.m. at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel.

The band has added several new selections to the holiday concert. Carol of the Bells arranged by Sean O'Loughlin features percussion and brass. Italian in Algiers, by G. Rossini, and arranged by Lucien Caillet, features the oboe, clarinets and flutes. We Wish You a Mambo Christmas arranged by Erik Morales, features the percussion section with drumming, bells, cowbells. Traditional songs include A Most Wonderful Christmas arranged by Robert Sheldon, and Fanfare and Procession on an Old English Carol by Robert Smith. This one features the brass section in the fanfare, a great way to start your holiday concert.

And the Christmas concert wouldn't be complete without a crowd favorite Sleigh Ride by Leroy Anderson.

Refreshments following the concert allow time to visit with the musicians. Donations help with music and instrument purchases and on-going costs to run the volunteer community band.

The band has been bringing music to the greater Bethel area for over 20 years. It was formed to share music when SAD 44 music program was eliminated for a few years, as a cost-saving effort. Since then both the SAD 44 music program and the Mahoosuc Community Band have grown. The community band now includes people from Hanover, Rumford, Dixfield, Waterford, Woodstock, Greenwood, Bethel, Albany, South Paris and Berlin, N.H. It's a group of people of all ages that just enjoy making music together. The group rehearses Monday nights from 7 to 8:45 p.m. at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel. The band will start rehearsals for 2015 on Jan. 5, after the Christmas break. School musicians are encouraged to join the Monday night rehearsals and enhance their Middle School or High School music programs. The band plans a spring concert in May before the summer performances. New members, or old-timers who may need to dust off their instruments, are always welcome. Contact Patricia Boyle-Wight, director, (824-8453 or PBoyleWight@Ants.edu) or Brian Dunham, president, (velvet.hollow.sugar_works@yahoo.com) for more information.

India Baker of Bethel and Jim Chandler of Bryant Pond practice percussion instruments for the upcoming Mahoosuc Community Band Christmas Concert.

Carter's Cross Country Ski Center carries on

Anne Carter, owner of Carter's XC Ski Center, has announced she will give a free season pass to anyone who buys a gear package before enough snow falls to open a trail. This after she put the "Open" flag out at her Nordic skiing and outfitting business for the first time without her late husband, David Carter, by her side. Instead, she is supported by the next generation of the cross-country skiing family that she and David cultivated, including three adult daughters and three son-in-laws, each of whom is eager to honor the patriarch this season, the first since he lost a battle with cancer in March. The pass is valid for trail access during regular business hours throughout the 2014-2015 season at both Carter's locations, in Oxford and Bethel. It is available to anyone who buys a ski package (skis, boots, bindings, and poles) before the family is able to gather enough snow to open a stretch of their 100+ miles of trails. "David always believed in getting people on Nordic skis. This is my way of honoring him and kicking off the 2014-2015 season," said Anne. "Dad loved snow more than anyone and would do snow dances and chants with anyone who would humor him," reminisced Sarah Carter-Hill, the couple's middle daughter.

"He would be proud of how hard we're working to send out good vibes for snow, and that the season pass offer is enticing others to do the same," Emily Carter Delamater, the youngest daughter, said that she's thrilled to honor her dad, but was quick to note that her mom Anne is a "great businessperson who loves the camaraderie of skiing as much as Dad did." Anne has been working all summer preparing for the season. And, in Dave's absence, son-in-law Jesse Hill stepped to the plate to assist Anne. Both currently work full time at the Oxford location, where their retail space is already open for the season.

son, with gear packages and outerwear available for purchase. Once snow flies, Hill will hold down the fort and trail maintenance in Oxford, while Anne will migrate north to run the Bethel location. Eldest daughter Jessica Person is planning a special on-snow event for March and all three daughters will teach ski lessons this season, while each of the other son-in-laws will help out during busy weekends. "Dave would not want us to skip a beat, and would be proud to see our family chipping in to help. I hope the announcement today will encourage more people to get on the snow this season; I know that's what he would want," said Anne. About the 2014 Giveaway The pass is a $99 value (though it holds no cash value for redemptive or return purposes) and is valid for trail access during regular business hours throughout the 2014-2015 season at both Carter's XC Ski Center locations, in Oxford and Bethel, Maine. Additionally, for the entire 2014-2015 season, cancer survivors and their caregivers are entitled to a free rental and free day pass at either location during regular business hours. Finally, any new Nordic skiers can receive a free rental and free day pass at either location after 1 pm during regular business hours. About David Carter David Carter was born in 1948, a native son of Bethel and graduate of Gould Academy and the University of Maine. A devoted husband and family man, Dave was well-known for his larger than life personality and is revered as one of the pioneers of Nordic skiing in Maine. Together, he and his wife Anne established Carter's XC Ski Center, with locations in both Oxford and Bethel. Though he passed in March of 2014 after a battle with cancer, Anne and the couple's three daughters and three sons-in-laws continue to run the ski center, which is now open for the 2014 season.

Visit Santa without all the tears

Turn a visit with Santa into a pleasant experience for children of all ages.

The holiday season means it's time once again for parents to take their youngsters to visit Santa Claus. Pictures with little boys and girls lining up in their dress clothes with Santa are a holiday tradition, and youngsters are often anxious for their chances to share their Christmas gift wishes with the jolly man in red.

But as integral as such photo sessions are to the holiday season, parents know they are one crying fit or meltdown away from having this tradition turn into trouble.

After waiting in long lines to see Santa, it's understandable when everyone's patience starts to wear thin. The combination of antsy children and aggravated adults could set off a chain reaction that culminates in tear-stained cheeks and a sullied holiday memory. Pictures with Santa can go much more smoothly when you employ the following tips.

* Prep children.

While kids may love the idea of Santa, youngsters face to face with a man in a red suit and a big, white beard may be nervous. Begin talking up Santa a few months before Christmas, mentioning how nice and friendly he is. Gauge how kids act around costumed performers at fairs, circuses and birthday parties and help them grow accustomed to people in costumes. If costumes elicit screams of horror, wait another year before seeing Santa.

* Visit during off-peak hours.

Weekends and evenings are the busiest times to visit Santa. This means long lines and longer wait times. Instead of dealing with the masses, try to get to the mall when the doors first open. Otherwise, bring the kids mid week when the lines are shorter.

* Consider another venue.

Many different places of business host events where kids can meet Santa. Families may be able to share a meal with Santa at a restaurant or visit him at a nursery while selecting Christmas trees. A different environment may be less intimidating to children and take the pressure off waiting in line in a busy mall.

* Go well-fed.

There's little worse than waiting in line and doing so hungry. Hunger pangs can turn even the most placid child into a menace. Pack snacks to enjoy while waiting. Opt for items that will not stain lips and teeth or drip onto clothing.

* Make it a family photo.

Sometimes the only way to entice a little one to take a picture with Santa is to provide some added security. Dress your best and be prepared to have to step in and cozy up to Santa to ensure your child is all smiles.

ORDER FOR SERVICE BY PUBLICATION

On the Motion of the Plaintiff for service upon the Defendants in this action by publication, this Court finds that this is an action by the Plaintiff against the Defendants for foreclosure by civil action of a condominium association lien on real property owned by the Defendants in the Town of Newry in the County of Oxford and the State of Maine, being the same premises conveyed to the Defendants by Warranty Deed dated November 3, 2006, which is recorded in the Oxford County Registry of Deeds in Book 4043, Page 96, that said action may affect the Defendants' ownership of said real property and may result in a deficiency judgment against the Defendants, and that the Defendants cannot, with due diligence, be located or served by any other prescribed method of service.

It is, therefore, ORDERED that the Plaintiff may make service by publication upon the Defendants in accordance with the provisions of Rule 4(d) (1) and (g) of the Maine Rules of Civil Procedure.

IF THIS OCCURS YOUR EMPLOYER MAY BE ORDERED TO PAY PART OF YOUR WAGES TO THE PLAINTIFF OR YOUR PERSONAL PROPERTY, INCLUDING BANK ACCOUNTS, AND YOUR REAL ESTATE MAY BE TAKEN TO SATISFY THE JUDGMENT. IF YOU INTEND TO OPPOSE THIS LAWSUIT, DO NOT FAIL TO ANSWER, WITHIN THE REQUIRED TIME.

If you believe the Plaintiff is not entitled to all or part of the claim set forth in the Complaint or if you believe you have a claim of your own against the Plaintiff, you should talk to a lawyer. Film 'No Turning Back' at Gould Academy

On Saturday, Dec. 13 at Gould Academy's Bingham Auditorium, the Sunday River Ski & Snowboard Club is hosting the Western Maine premier of Warren Miller's latest full-length feature ski film, "No Turning Back."

Since he began creating films in 1949, Warren Miller has known that as skiers and riders, there's no need to look back, we have to continuously drive to keep our edge and chase the snow. This year, Warren Miller proves that not much has changed when it comes to why it is these athletes tilt and turn down mountains and pray for storms. Sheer delight. Welcome this winter season with the Sunday River Ski & Snowboard Club and remember, there's "No Turning Back."

Doors open at 7 p.m. Swag and giveaways begin at 7:15. The movie begins at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at <http://brownpapertickets.com/event/956434> and will also be available at the door. For more info, please visit www.srsc.com/movienight.
